Abstract

These instructions give some basic guidance to prepare your full paper for the IAME 2025 conference. The abstract of no more than 200 words must be provided in here and the space assigned at the submission system. The full paper should not exceed 7,500 words, including references, appendices and any other relevant material. Papers exceeding the word count will not be accepted. Four styles have been included for your use: Normal for in-text paragraphs, Abstract for the Abstract paragraph, Heading 1 for the first level heading, Heading 2 for second-level subheadings. Use numbering on the main text sections and not in the acknowledgment and references sections.

Keywords

Keyword 1, keyword 2, keyword 3,..., keyword 5 (max 5 keywords)

1 Introduction

Manuscripts must provide a comprehensive overview of the subject matter, explicitly highlighting the authors' contributions. This includes a detailed description of the motivation and objectives, employed methodology, the obtained results, and a concluding discussion that emphasizes the significance of the work from research/policy/industry perspective.

2 Text format and structure of the paper

2.1 Type sizes and typefaces

We have configured several styles to ease your editing. Use Roman font with 14 point bold, capital letters for the title, 14 point, bold, sentence case and numbered for the title, 12 point for the authors' names, main text and authors' affiliation and 12 point, bold for the subheading.

2.2 Format

On formatting your page, set top margin to 25 mm (1") and bottom margin to 31 mm (1 1/4"). Left and right margins should be 19 mm (3/4"). Spacing of 6mm (1/4") between columns and 6mm(1/4") indent paragraphs.

Left and right justify your main text. All figures, tables and equations must be included in the text. Do not use links to external files.

2.3 Abbreviations and acronyms

Define abbreviations and acronyms the first time they are used in the text, even after they have been defined in the abstract. Do not use abbreviations in the title, unless they are unavoidable.

3 Equations, tables and figures

3.1 Figures and tables

Figures should be of good quality with a minimum of 600 dpi (1 bit/sample) for line art (graphics, charts, drawings or tables) and 220 dpi for photos and gray scale images.

Ensure that tables and figures are not split across pages and that they are incorporated into the main body of the paper, positioned near the paragraph of first mention. Every table and figure must be explicitly referenced in text using the using the format "Figure 1" or "Table 1". They should be numbered sequentially in the order of their appearance (e.g., Table 1, Table 2).

Try writing figure axis labels as words rather than symbols or acronyms, put units in parentheses. For example, write Temperature (K) instead of Tmp. (K)

3.2 Equations

Equations should be centered on the page, numbered consecutively with equation numbers in parentheses, in line with the right margin, as seen in Equation 1.

$$f(x) = a_0 \cos \frac{\pi x}{L} \quad (1)$$

Be sure that the symbols in your equation have been defined before the equation appears or immediately following.

4 Citations and References

All citations should follow the APA 7th edition style. Citations of works by two authors should have “and” and not and ampersand symbol (&). Citation by three or more authors should have the first author followed by et al.

A reference list should appear at the end of the paper under the heading “References”.

Acknowledgments

Acknowledgements should be included in a separate headed section after the main text. Authors may acknowledge in this section support for the development of the study or research, or any contribution to the work done, including sponsorship and financial support.

References

All references cited in the text will be listed at the end of the paper in the “references” section. All the references should be arranged in alphabetical order and in ascending chronological order for each author. The list should include only those references cited in the text. Where possible, providing the DOI of references is highly encouraged.
